Bringing Olympic Coins Back To Coin Collectors

It is the goal of the Winter Olympic Committee to "bring Olympic coins back to the coin collector". For the first time in many years, official Lake Placid Olympic Commemorative coins will be offered in limited mintage. The program will be initiated by the issue of silver and gold legal tender proof coins by the Polish Peoples Republic and thereafter up to five additional countries will be issuing similar coins with Lake Placid Olympic themes.

Each of the coins issued will bear the official Lake Placid logo and will feature a pictorial theme, depicting at least one of the thirteen winter events and disciplines.

XIII OLYMPIC WINTER GAMES LAKE PLACID 1980

Unlike previous Olympic coin issues, the mintages of the coins issued for the Lake Placid Games will be extremely low, generally 25,000 to 50,000 pieces, in contrast to the higher mintaged Olympic coins issued by Canada in 1976 (in the millions) and Russia this year and next (nearly ½ million)!!!

Because of the vast number of worldwide enthusiastic Olympic coin collectors that exist, it is anticipated that these small mintages will rapidly disappear soon after issue.

Take advantage of this offer while it last!!

*Oil prices as of January 2, 1970 and January 2, 1980.

In 1970 one Krugerrand could buy 19 barrels of oil. In 1980 one Krugerrand could buy 19 barrels of oil.

These are troubled times, and one trouble you have surely encountered is keeping up with inflation. Those who own gold have been in a better position to cope with rising prices. As you can see from the cost of one important commodity,* gold has tended to retain its value in real terms of purchasing power.

If you've decided to own gold, it is best to look for gold in its most acceptable form for easy reconversion to money—gold that is immediately and universally recognized for its value. And that is the South African Krugerrand. This coin was designed to be the most convenient form of gold bullion. It contains exactly one troy ounce of pure gold plus just enough alloying metal to produce a strong, hard coin that resists marring.

The Krugerrand's "one-ounceness" makes it easy for you to know the value of your gold holdings very closely at any time. It is simply a matter of looking up the world price of an ounce of gold which is published daily in the newspapers. (For Krugerrands, you only pay a small premium over this price to cover the cost of coinage and distribution—much like the brokerage fee you pay when you buy stocks.)

Krugerrands are the most sold gold coin in the world, and a large percentage is sold in the United States. Because of their popularity, there is always a ready market for Krugerrands. They're sold and bought back every day at neighborhood coin dealer shops and at some brokerage firms and banks. You can send in the coupon below for more information.

Owning gold is very much like owning your own home in that neither one yields interest, but both have appreciated in value over the years. Gold is a good way of preserving capital, of hedging against inflation. As the price of "black gold" and almost everything else increases, gold looks better than ever.

If this sounds interesting, call us regarding our investment opportunities.

Deposit a minimum of $1000 towards any purchase of Krugerrands, thus entitling you to access to our toll free number for current gold quotes.

Check these prices out carefully and you will find that they are ready for some real action. Depressed during recent months due to the fact that they are Redfield coins yet certainly worthy of a strong move. 1892-O Mint State Silver Dollars

Really choice pieces except weakly struck as typical with most "O" Mint coins. Certainly a rare date coin with only 2¾ million pieces struck but more importantly is the fact that most of the pieces struck were circulated and seldom are Uncirculated pieces encountered. We have just a few from an original roll.
Very few bag marks on these pieces but slightly weak as our photograph will show.
We actually use photographs of coins we sell so order in confidence.

1937 Dedication Cover

Back in the 30's the opening of an airport was big doings for a town as it was a link with the rest of the country and a sign of the towns' importance. Few people today have heard of Arrasmith Field in GRAND ISLAND, NEBRASKA however back in 1937 it was apparently quite a metropolis. We just acquired a limited number of covers commemorating the opening of this airport. We're sure you would like to add one to your collection.

THE LAST U.S. SILVER RARITY

1970-D Half Dollar

With a total mintage of just 2,150,000 pieces the 1970-D Half Dollar is certainly one of the last silver rarities. This beautiful silver coin struck at the Denver Mint was only sold to collectors who ordered official mint sets. The interesting facit behind its rarity is that those collectors lacking the 1970-D issue usually seek this coin from circulation, yet have two things going against them. One -- being a silver issue, any that might have hit circulation would have disappeared due to their silver content and two — none were released for circulation making it a necessity to obtain them from a mint set. After considering these two factors and then realizing that being issued for mint sets only the coins never were commercially handled, each is a glittering beauty with minimal bag marks. Certainly a lovely coin with a promising future.
